

Practise using the will future with us!

i When do you use it?

To talk about an event in the future that is not certain or for spontaneous decisions.

How do you use it?

Put "will" in front of the infinitive form of the verb.

For example: I will play tennis tomorrow. OR use the contracted form: She'll phone next week.

Negations: Put "not" in between will and the verb. I will not come tomorrow. OR use "won't" - I won't come tomorrow.

Questions: Will she arrive by six?

?

I think our teacher _____ give us any homework this week.

- ☐ wills
- ☐ will
- ☐ won't

?

Bob thinks that he _____ to the sports stadium on Sunday.

- ☐ wills go
- ☐ will
- ☐ will go

?

Maybe we _____ be able to come to your party on Saturday, sorry!

- ☐ won't
- ☐ wone't
- ☐ willn't

?

Perhaps _____ travel to Australia in her holidays to visit her aunt and uncle.

- ☐ she will
- ☐ she wills
- ☐ she

?

_____ you do me a favour, please?

- ☐ Wil
- ☐ Wills
- ☐ Will

?

Maybe we _____ Spanish as a second foreign language next year.

- ☐ learned
- ☐ will learn
- ☐ learn

?

He _____ probably lose this game.

- ☐ will
- ☐ wills
- ☐ is

?

Do you think it _____ rain on the weekend?

- ☐ do
- ☐ wills
- ☐ will

?

I think she _____ be able to play next summer because of her injury.

Use a negation!

?

Do you think that your sister _____ play at the national tournament next summer?

?

I think I _____ be able to attend training this evening, sorry!

?

We hope that our exchange students _____ arrive next month.

?

It's a pity but they _____ be able to stay for a whole month after all, only for two weeks.

?

Ben _____ probably buy a new guitar on Saturday. He is so happy!

